

A photograph of three Buddhist monks in orange robes standing outdoors. The monk on the left is seated, while the other two stand behind him. They are all wearing glasses. In the foreground, there is a large, elaborate arrangement of white flowers. The background shows some greenery and a building.

